B. Korsgaard (Denmark)
Metabolism of larval turbot Scophthalmus maximus (L.) and uptake of amino acids from seawater studied by autoradiographic and radiochemical methods 1

P.-Y. Qian and F.-S. Chia (Canada)
Fecundity and egg size are mediated by food quality in the polychaete worm Capitella sp. 11

E.A. Caine (USA)
Caprellid amphipods: fast food for the reproductively active 27

S.J. Northcott, R.N. Gibson and E. Morgan (UK)
The effect of tidal cycles of hydrostatic pressure on the activity of Lipophrys pholis (L.) (Teleostei) 35

S.J. Northcott, R.N. Gibson and E. Morgan (UK)
Phase responsiveness of the activity rhythm of Lipophrys pholis (L.) (Teleostei) to a hydrostatic pressure pulse 47

R.E. Olsen, R.J. Henderson and T. Pedersen (Norway, UK)
The influence of dietary lipid classes on the fatty acid composition of small cod Gadus morhua L. juveniles reared in an enclosure in northern Norway 59

S.C. Choy (Negara Brunei Darussalam)
Embryonic and larval biology of Liocarcinus holsatus and Necora puber (Crustacea: Brachyura: Portunidae) 77

V.A. Funk and L.A. Hobson (Canada)
Temporal variations in the carotenoid composition and content of Euphausia pacifica Hansen in Saanich Inlet, British Columbia 93

J. van der Meer (The Netherlands)
Exploring macrobenthos–environment relationship by canonical correlation analysis 105

S. Sponaugle and M. LaBarbera (USA)
Drag-induced deformation: a functional feeding strategy in two species of gorgonians 121

S. Sponaugle (USA)
Flow patterns and velocities around a suspension-feeding gorgonian polyp: evidence from physical models 135

K.E. Kreeger, D.A. Kreeger, C.J. Langdon and R.R. Lowry (USA)
The nutritional value of Artemia and Tigriopus californicus (Baker) for two Pacific mysid species, Metamysidopsis elongata (Holmes) and Mysidopsis intii (Holmquist) 147

G. Thouzeau (France)
Experimental collection of postlarvae of Pecten maximus (L.) and other benthic macrofaunal species in the Bay of Saint-Brieuc, France. I. Settlement patterns and biotic interactions among the species collected 159

G. Thouzeau (France)
Experimental collection of postlarvae of Pecten maximus (L.) and other benthic macrofaunal species in the Bay of Saint-Brieuc, France. II. Reproduction patterns and postlarval growth of five mollusc species 181

M. Fréchette and J. Grant (Canada)
An in situ estimation of the effect of wind-driven resuspension on the growth of the mussel Mytilus edulis L. 201

R.M. Asmus and H. Asmus (FRG)
Mussel beds: limiting or promoting phytoplankton? 215

J.B. McClintock, T.S. Klinger, K. Marion and P. Hsueh (USA)

Digestive carbohydrases of the blue crab Callinectes sapidus (Rathbun): implications in utilization of plant-derived detritus as a trophic resource 233
D. Raffaelli, I. Karakassis and A. Galloway (Greece, UK)
Zonation schemes on sandy shores: a multivariate approach 241
J. Arrontes and A.J. Underwood (Australia)
Experimental studies on some aspects of the feeding ecology of the intertidal starfish Patiriella exigua 255
O.O. Iribarne, M.E. Fernandez and H. Zucchini (Argentina, USA)
Prey selection by the small Patagonian octopus Octopus tehuelchus d'Orbigny 271
M.H. Posey, B.R. Dumbauld and D.A. Armstrong (USA)
Effects of a burrowing mud shrimp, Upogebia pugettensis (Dana), on abundances of macro-infauna 283
